FALL ENDS HOPPER'S PLAY

Comedian, Injured by Fall From Wire, Is Ordered to Give Up Engagement. PHILADELPHIA, PA. October 14.—De Wolf Hopper was compelled to close his engagement in "What Happened Then" at the Lyric Theatre last night, owing to injuries which he sustained while swinging on a wire in his role of Pied Piper at the Weiting Opera House, Syracuse, bu Monday night of last week.

Mr. Hopper is threatened with hernia. The muscles of his stomach have been severely injured, and his physicians have informed him that his life would be endangered if he tried to continue his performances.

Immediately after the accident in Syracuse the local physicians thought that the actor had suffered a fracture of the skull and a concussion of the brain. This, however, was fortunately proved to be a wrong diagnosis, but the internal complications which have now set in are of such a serious nature that Mr. Hopper's life would be endangered if he continued his performances.
